Jesse Olsen Joins Strategic Risk Solutions

Concord, MA, September 7, 2017 - Strategic Risk Solutions (SRS) announced that Jesse Olsen has joined the firm as a Senior Consultant in SRS Advisers, the group's consulting division. Mr. Olsen will lead the firm's consulting activities in the Western United States and continue to develop SRS's presence in Texas, Oklahoma and mid-western US captive domiciles.

Mr. Olsen joins SRS from Lockton Companies, where he spent more than 11 years advising clients on captives and alternative risk financing programs. His experience at Lockton included performing captive feasibility and utilization reviews, negotiating collateral, structuring alternative risk programs, overseeing actuarial analysis and managing risk control & claims consulting units.

"Our collaboration with Jesse during his tenure at Lockton demonstrated that he was the right person to help us expand our presence in the West and fulfill our mission to provide clear and concise advice to executives on captives and alternative risk structures," said Brady Young, President and CEO of SRS. Mr. Olsen will be based in Houston, Texas. In addition to his consulting activities, he will support SRS's western region captive management operations.

"After nearly 12 years at Lockton, leaving was not an easy decision. I am grateful for the experience and relationships I carry forward from there and am excited about expanding my network to other firms where SRS also has a strong connection," said Olsen. "Captives are my focus and passion. As an independent firm solely focused in the captive space, SRS aligns well with my interests and goals. I am eager to get started and contribute to growing SRS's reputation for delivering exceptional captive management and consulting services."
